HEALTHCARE

Kimball®Office

Providing comfort is a beautiful thing.

Kimball Office furniture is created to do many things, not the least of which is to be useful—to people. People who may be working, waiting, discussing, thinking, deciding, encouraging . . . hoping.

Keeping this all in view, we design products that go beyond everyday notions of function in order to offer you something more extraordinary. Namely, solutions that help fulfill a mission. Over the decades, we've earned respect for crafting high-quality wood furniture. Today, we're also recognized for intelligent use of space, fresh aesthetics, and an evocative mix of materials.

Are you looking to make your healthcare environments more flexible and appealing—for staff, patients, and visitors alike? Perfect. Kimball Office has some comforting words:

We can make it happen.

An open and inviting atmosphere.

There's cost, competition, and regulation. Not to mention rapidly advancing treatments and evolving trends in care. Some days, it may seem like change is really the only constant.

But, one part of your job will never change: making sure your facilities remain attractive, calm, and comforting. It's good to know that Kimball Office offers a variety of furniture with the right look—and feel—for healthcare environments.

For your open, public spaces—such as visitor lounges, lobbies, waiting rooms, and reception areas—consider our seating, tables, and highly configurable lounge collections. Our lineup is versatile, offering styles for traditional, transitional, and contemporary settings.

Our seating especially addresses several practicalities that matter greatly every day. Our lineup offers options that have taller arms and grips to assist people in sitting and standing up, plus seat heights that enable wheelchair accessibility. We also provide firm to standard (but not too soft) seating; attached cushions; simple, space-saving designs for welcomed simplicity; and hidden ganging devices to keep everything in place.

Better still, our relationships are responsive. Meaning we listen to your needs first. And pay critical attention to your timelines and budgets.

At any given moment, countless activities are happening around you. The work of administrators and office teams. Personal interactions between staff, patients, and visitors. Training sessions, meetings, and more.

Thankfully, you don't have to be a specialist in every single area. You just need the right partner. Kimball Office is highly adept at working with you to determine the exact requirements of a space, then selecting the best mix of products to facilitate its purpose.

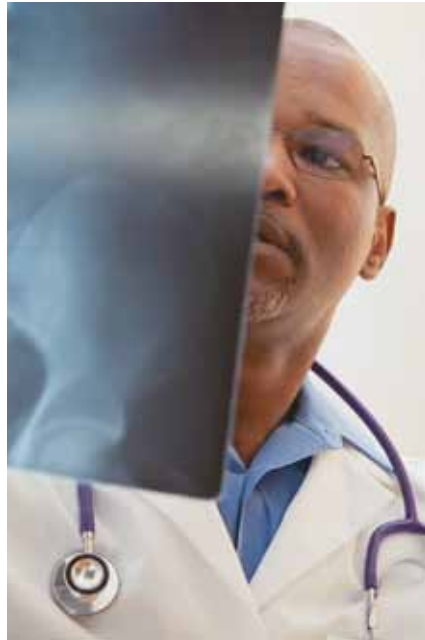

Our desking systems provide insightful, eye-catching answers for private and open plan offices, admitting and reception areas, and even nurses' stations. Our seating and table collections can be adapted to large conference rooms and small huddle spaces alike.

For any setting or situation—talk with us. Let us surprise you.

Sustainable, durable solutions.

The lasting impressions we want to leave you with may actually address the foremost issues on your mind.

Does Kimball Office help you meet sustainable building and design goals? Yes, we certainly can. Our furniture is fabricated from recyclable wood, metal, glass, and aluminum with a high recycled content. Many of our products, in fact, may contribute to LEED® credits.

Will Kimball Office furniture, well—last? Again, yes. Our seating lineup includes incredibly sturdy, durable options that easily withstand 24/7 intensive use—and can accommodate more than one individual. Consistent with healthcare protocol, we've designed chairs that are easy to clean. Plus, you can count on the fabrics and surfaces of all Kimball Office products to stand up well to the rigors of day-in, day-out usage.

Remember, our reputation was built on solid, well-made furniture, and it's still a point of pride. Indeed, we believe that sustainability and durability go very much hand in hand. It's part of our philosophy to maximize the years of usefulness our products have in order to lessen our impacts on materials, energy, and the environment at large.
